

NOW CASTING!

Building off the Grid is casting unique residential builds featuring sustainable technology and appealing remote locations throughout the US. Are you or someone you know building a house that has remote access? Innovative design? Sustainable solutions to comfortable living? We want to hear from you!

Home and Garden Television and DIY Network are known for their magazine style show, docs-reality entertainment and appeal to broad demographics.

This series highlights the architect, design, and build team behind unique homes going up across the country. Each 1 hour special follows a build from the ground up ending with a climatic reveal showcasing the execution of each project. We are looking to feature custom homes for inspiring clients.

For more information about the show, please contact:
Jennifer Jordon / jen@jsddigital.com / 720-436-6026